Signet Education, an educational consulting firm in Cambridge MA, is seeking dynamic, engaging, and experienced Economics tutors.

Many of our subject instructors are graduate students or have PhDs in their fields of instruction. In addition to their academic expertise, our tutors have a knack for teaching and mentoring; our tutors' ability to convey knowledge and enthusiasm for their subjects is what sets us apart from tutoring companies.

Qualifications:

• a strong background in college-level Economics, including macro, micro, and econometrics
• prior tutoring or teaching experience (2+ years preferred)
• general availability during the coming year (but we always work with your schedule)

Responsibilities:

• Learn each student's individual strengths, study habits, workload, and needs;
• Craft and implement individualized plans of study;
• Provide clear and engaging instruction;
• Design appropriate and innovative homework assignments;
• Track and communicate progress to students;
• Handle scheduling and logistics for each tutoring session.

Who We Are:

Helping students improve their grades, scores, and scholastic lives since 2005, Signet Education is a full-service educational consultancy specializing in test preparation, admissions consulting, subject tutoring, and organizational coaching for students of all ages. Founded and actively managed by Harvard alumni, Signet Education maintains a staff of dedicated, inspiring, and experienced educators who use personalized lessons to build students' confidence, ability, and time management skills while providing the mentorship and genuine care that relieves stress and fosters long-term academic and personal growth.

At Signet Education, we believe that a genuine relationship based on mutual respect and understanding is vital for the success of any academic relationship. With dynamic, affable tutors engaged in a one-on-one setting, our role constitutes more than mere teaching. No matter the subject, we emphasize advising and mentorship to inspire students to achieve their full potential both inside and outside of the classroom.

Why You Should Work For Us:

• We pay the best: We are committed to retaining the highest quality tutors, and one way we do this is by compensating them better than any of our competitors.

• We help you become a better tutor: We provide you with researched and proven tutoring methods to supplement your experience, as well as hands-on training with educational professionals. We also provide you with our own proprietary materials to help you structure and execute your lessons.

• We take care of everything so all you have to do is tutor: Through our website we give you an easy way to schedule all your appointments according to your own parameters (hours per week, days, specific times, willingness to travel, etc.) so you can focus solely on tutoring. Our support team is here to make sure you don't ever have to find clients, send invoices, or haggle over rates.

• We give you a great place to tutor: Our private Harvard Square location features three floors of quiet spaces dedicated to tutoring appointments and accessible 24/7, a library of textbooks and other test prep and curriculum guides, and a friendly and attentive support team here to address your concerns.

• We consider you our most important company asset and treat you that way: Both company founders are tutors themselves, and they realize the challenges that tutoring effectively and balancing a rigorous professional or academic schedule entail. We will always work with you to find your optimum involvement with our company, and to help you succeed as a tutor and individual.

• We hire the best: We are committed to providing the best tutoring services possible; so we are always seeking dynamic and experienced tutors who are passionate about mentoring, educating, and expanding our students' minds.

Working for Signet Education comes with unique perks, especially for students. We let tutors set their own schedules, and increase or decrease their workload as their academic responsibilities evolve.

Our tutors gain valuable pedagogical experience through designing their own curricula, teaching, and advising. The Signet community is also a great forum for exchanging teaching strategies, interacting with students, faculty, and professionals from other disciplines, and even finding rewarding volunteer opportunities in the greater Boston community.
