Courses with Writing Requirement

Department of Economics

COURSES THAT AUTOMATICALLY MEET THE WRITING REQUIREMENT
Paper required and no faculty approval needed. Course must be taken for a grade.

Ec 980       All junior seminars
[Ec 1032]   The Packing Problem: The Behavioral Economics of Scarcity
Ec 1053 F   Understanding Altruism
[Ec 1150]   Data Analysis: A Project Class
Ec 1310 S   The Economy of China
[Ec 1341]   The Historical Origins of Middle Eastern Development
[Ec 1356]   Economics of Work and Family
[Ec 1357]   Historical Perspectives on Economic Ascendancy
Ec 1389 S   Economics of Global Health
[Ec 1393]   Poverty and Development
Ec 1425 S   Political Economics
Ec 1432 F   Economics of European Integration
[Ec 1450r]   Religion and Political Economy
Ec 1490 F   Growth and Crisis in the World Economy
[Ec 1530]   International Monetary Economics
Ec 1759 S   Financial System and the Central Bank
[Ec 1815]   Social Problems of the American Economy
Ec 1818 S   Economics of Discontinuous Change
Ec 1820 S   Education Reform in America

COURSES THAT OPTIONALLY MEET THE WRITING REQUIREMENT
To receive writing credit for the following courses, students must complete additional work beyond the basic course requirements. This work will vary from course to course; consult the instructor for specifics. The course must be taken for a letter grade to receive writing credit.

Ec 1017 F   A Libertarian Perspective on Economic and Social Policy
Ec 1018 F   Cultural Economics
Ec 1034 F   Networks
[Ec 1060]   Firms, Contracts, Financial Structure
[Ec 1070]   Normative Economics
Ec 1410 S   Public Economics: Designing Government Policy
Ec 1420 S   American Economic Policy
Ec 1460 S   Economics of Health Care Policy
[Ec 1540]   Topics in International Trade
Ec 1620 S   Industry Structure, Strategy, and Public Policy
[Ec 1642]   Advanced Industrial IO
Ec 1661 S   Fundamentals of Environmental Economics and Policy
Ec 1776 F   Religion and the Rise of Capitalism
[Ec 1816]   Race in America
[Ec 1936]   Keynes
EMR 20 F   The Business and Politics of Health

Note: In order to receive credit for the writing requirement the paper must have a grade of B- or higher.
Unbracketed courses are being offered to the 2014-15 school year. Bracketed courses have historically been offered and may be offered again in future years.

*History 1067 (formerly 1967) optionally counts for a writing requirement but does not count for elective credit.