Abdiel Capital, a long-only value investment hedge fund based in New York City, seeks candidates for a full-time analyst position. Candidates must be planning to graduate in Spring 2014. Abdiel invests its capital in 10-15 long equity positions, focusing on companies with durable competitive advantages. It has widely outperformed the market since its 2006 inception. The analyst will assist the firm's principals in identifying investment ideas and analyzing them in detail. Compensation is competitive. The analyst can expect to acquire many of the skills and knowledge necessary to earning above-average returns in public equity investing.

Chief qualifications are curiosity and evidence of enthusiasm for self-directed research projects. The analyst will spend most of his time researching small, overlooked companies. Candidates should be comfortable working with numbers and be interested in learning how to interpret financial statements. Candidates must possess a minimum GPA of 3.5 and a bachelor's degree by the end of academic year 2013-2014.

To apply, please submit a resume, transcript, and cover letter to jobs@abdielcapital.com by 5pm on Friday, October 11. Cover letters should focus on previous research in any field—theses, junior papers, lab work, etc. Include a brief description of the project's central questions and how you researched them. Letters should also (a) highlight evidence of quantitative aptitude or coursework relevant to investing, accounting, and finance; and (b) list activities or other evidence of interest in investing and business.
